

Chabad.org Video

The Properties of Water

When the Holy Temple stood in Jerusalem, wine was poured on the altar daily, but on the festival of Sukkos there was an additional water libation after the morning service. The seven nights of Sukkos were spent celebrating the drawing of this water, which was collected daily at daybreak from a valley below the Temple. Water may lack all the sophistication of wine, but it is for this reason that our sages associate it with Torah, unity and joy.

Living Torah

Watch (6:48)

Why We Whack Willows on Hoshana Rabbah

On the 7th day of Sukkot, called Hoshana Rabba, we take five willows and strike the ground to sweeten the judgment. This class digs deep into Torah tradition to uncover the origins, meanings, and relevance to the ancient Holy Temple plant parade that lead to modern synagogue willow whacking!

By Mendel Kaplan

Watch \(1:14:19\)

Shazak Parsha: Simchas Torah

Watch a taste of Shazak, and discover why we dance on Simchat Torah, and who truly owns the Torah? Geared for kids... Great for adults!

By Moshe Moscovitz

Watch \(5:28\)

Being In a State of Joy

Sometimes, in our attempt to be happy, we focus on ourselves. The holiday of Sukkot teaches us that to be in a state of joy, one must move beyond oneself.

By Aryeh Weinstein

Watch (6:06)

Rabbi Gordon - Bereishit: 1st Portion

By Yehoshua B. Gordon

Watch (1:40:22)

Bereishis Puppet Show

Have fun watching an exciting puppet show for children and learn the parsha of the week with Rabbi Wagshul.

By Avrohom Wagshul

Watch (1:03:40)

Simchat Torah: The Inside Story

Discover the mystical dimension of this most joyous day.

By Nissan Dovid Dubov

Watch (37:09)

Unpacking the Holiday Bags

Harnessing the Sukkot Energy for the Whole Year

By Zalman Kaplan

Watch (40:00)

More Chabad.org Webcasts

Talmud: Beitzah 27

\(Advanced\)

By Avraham Meyer Zajac

Aired Sunday, September 26 at 6am ET

[Shulchan Aruch, Chapter 197: Din Tzeiruf L'Zimun Shloshah Oh Asarah
6c](#)

By Avraham Meyer Zajac

Airs Monday, September 27 at 6am ET

FOLLOW ON TWITTER

LIKE ON FACEBOOK

FOLLOW ON INSTAGRAM